

Central Dizziness

A loss or change of blood flow within the brain may be caused by small strokes or vascular disease affecting the arteries supplying blood to the central vestibular connections. Symptoms may include constant feeling of fogginess, or dizziness. It may be worsened with head motion.

Treatment Options Include:

- Vascular-Neurological Consult
- Medication
- Vestibular Rehabilitation